The Freight Handlers are not in a Hurry to Settle Trouble

And the Railroad Managers are Standing Firm—The Teamsters
Refuse to Haul Freight
From the Stations.

Chicago, July 14.—After the board of arbitration had announced to the freight handlers that eight of the largest railroads had agreed to pay 17 1/2 cents per hour to truckers, pay for overtime and withdraw the demand for probationary service, and the union men had agreed to send committees to confer with all the railroads, the general managers of two railroads declared they had agreed to no such proposition. They declared that when the committees shall visit the railroad offices the roads will offer for them the same terms as those which were rejected by the union men. The statement from the general managers destroyed the hope of a settlement of the strike on the basis of the terms suggested by the general managers of the railroads. Even if the general managers had not insisted upon maintaining their position it is not probable that a settlement could be effected. The freight handlers agreed to make another effort to reach a settlement with the railroads only to please the teamsters, who previously had endorsed the attempt of the board of arbitration to settle the strike.

There is lack of evidence of their intention to make a serious effort to settle the controversy. President Curran of the Freight Handlers' union stated that the committees will inquire into the payment of 18 cents an hour instead of 17 1/2 cents which the railroads are reported to have offered. He also stated that the freight handlers will make no more overtures and will not accept any proposals which shall not stipulate for the payment of the wage scale as formulated by the union and the recognition of the organization.

With the general managers and the union both maintaining these respective positions, it is believed that there is slight chance for a settlement and that when that opportunity shall have vanished, it will be a fight to a finish.

Every teamster union in Chicago that has members handling freight, voted to refuse to take teams to the freight depots.

The ice teamsters also have agreed not to use refrigerator cars nor to visit the railroad yards. This is virtually a sympathetic strike, and until the railroads shall settle the trouble with the freight handlers the ice storage plants along the railroad lines will have to be closed.

Longshoremen of Chicago, who have been in only a partially organized condition, were formed into a union. They are out now in sympathy with the freight handlers, but may inaugurate an independent strike of their own if a higher scale of wages for loading and unloading the big lake boats shall be refused.

Fruit Growers Alarmed.
Carbondale, Ill., July 14.—Fruit and vegetable growers of southern Illinois are much alarmed over the strike of the freight handlers in Chicago. Thousands of dollars' worth of tomatoes are rotting in the fields. Much fruit, including peaches and apples, is ripening, and will be in marketable condition during the present week. None of the growers or shipping associations in the fruit belt will ship to Chicago under present conditions.

WORK RESUMED

In the Mines of the Cambria
Steel Company.

Johnstown, July 14.—Mining was partially resumed this morning in the rolling mill mine of the Cambria Steel company. It is said that 48 men went back to work. No more bodies were brought out or have been discovered, and the mine has apparently been explored fully. Nevertheless some miners claim that many bodies will still be found.

A. O. H. IN CONVENTION.

The National Meeting of the Order
Being Held.

It Promises to be the Greatest Gathering of Irish Catholics Ever Held in the United States.

Denver, Colo., July 14.—Hundreds of delegates have arrived for the biennial national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians which begins its sessions in this city tomorrow. The convention will be preceded by a high pontifical mass at the Sacred Heart church, Rev. P. C. York, of San Francisco delivering the sermon. The meeting promises to be the greatest gathering of Irish Catholics ever held in the United States. The attendance undoubtedly will reach the two thousand mark and all sections of the country will be represented. Aside from the discussion of many questions of great importance to the Hibernians of the United States, the

THE NEW MONITOR

Which Cost About a Million is Being Tested Today.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—In naval circles considerable interest is manifested in the trial of the new monitor Arkansas, which is scheduled to begin today over the official course off the Delaware Capes. The Arkansas was recently completed at Newport News, and among naval experts who have seen her, the opinion is unanimous that she will more than fill the requirements of the contract. The Arkansas is of the same type and general dimensions as the Nevada, Florida and Wyoming, all of which are building, and each of which is nearly twice the size and displacement of the single-turret monitors already in commission. Their cost amounts to nearly a million dollars each and they are designed to have a speed of 17 1/2 knots. Though inferior in size and armament to the battleships and first-class cruisers, the monitors are nevertheless considered among the most formidable fighting machines afloat.

A FOOD FAMINE

Threatening the People of Chicago as a Result of the Strike.

Chicago, July 14.—This morning saw the beginning of the second week of the freight handlers' strike. Each of the thousand freight handlers and teamsters are out every freight house in Chicago is tied up and the great shipping industries are paralyzed. The depots are guarded by private and city policemen. Thousands of strikers surrounded them determined that not one pound of freight can be moved. The early indications were that before the end of the day the strike would be settled. The strikers have been informed from a source, presumably speaking with authority, that the row propositions, outlined to railroads will be accepted. Committees were again sent to managers this morning.

The prospects for a food famine are growing. Carloads of fruit are spoiling on the tracks. Meat shipped from the packing houses is not handled by teamsters, where non-union freight handlers are employed. The warehouses are piled up with merchandise that cannot be moved. Business houses admit this morning that they are powerless to handle any except city trade.

FOR SIX MONTHS

This Railroad Says It Will Hold Out Against Strikers.

Chicago, July 14.—At the offices of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe the strikers committee was informed that the company would concede nothing, and would hold out six months if necessary. The Lake Shore Chicago and Eastern Illinois and Chicago and Great Western are said to have taken a similar stand.

New York, July 14.—General Thomas J. Morgan died at Yorkville, N. Y., aged 62. Death was due to kidney disease. General Morgan was born in Franklin, Ind. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted as a private and rose to the rank of brevet brigadier general. President Harrison made him commissioner of Indian affairs. At the time of his death General Morgan was secretary of the Home Mission society of the Baptist church.

Buying American Machinery.

Berlin, July 14.—A private dispatch received here from Warsaw says the agricultural societies of Poland are negotiating with American manufacturers direct for the purchase of machinery, excluding the German machine. The step is believed to be aimed also at German machinery. Several newspapers publish the above dispatch as illustrative of the efforts of Americans to supplant German manufacturers.

Dancer Dangerously Ill.

Berlin, July 14.—The Australian dancer Saharet, while en route from St. Petersburg for New York to begin a long engagement in the United States, was attacked by peritonitis and is now dangerously ill at the Westminister hotel in this city.

MINE

Inspected and is Now Reported

Free From Gas

Permit is Given to Resume Operations

Two More Deaths Have Occurred Among the Injured

Who Were Taken from the Mine on Friday—May be More Dead Bodies Yet Found in the Tunnels.

Johnstown, Pa., July 14.—The four state mine inspectors summoned here to make an inspection of the Cambria Steel company's mine, after a consultation with the chief of the state mining inspection bureau, sent a notice to General Manager C. S. Price of the Cambria company granting formal permission to resume operations in all sections of the mine except the Klondike. The Klondike workings will likely be closed for several days until perfect security is assured through the bratticing of openings and repairs necessitated by the explosion.

Two more deaths of rescued victims have occurred. John Scher and Yasante Sibola died at the Cambria general hospital. These men were among the six living last brought out of the mine Friday afternoon, of which four others have died. These deaths raise the total fatalities to 114, although the company records have it one less. Much confusion has attended compilation of the record.

Mine Superintendent G. T. Robinson said: "I would not like to assert that there are no more bodies in the mine, but I don't think there are. There may be a few."

It is generally regarded as certain that the full extent of the disaster is now known. State inspectors say that all the workings are now free of gas, and the almost perfect ventilating apparatus is rushing currents of pure air into the uttermost recesses of the subterranean workings. There has not been a single place outside of the old abandoned chambers that has not undergone the scrutiny of experts to pronounce everything in as good condition as could be asked or demanded.

Of course the inspectors would say nothing as to their discoveries. They will remain mute to the public on the subject until called upon to testify at the inquest, the date of which Coroner Miller has not yet fixed.

Funeral of a Hero.

The funeral of Mike Sabot, one of the conspicuous self-sacrificing heroes of the disaster, took place from St. Mary's German Catholic church. The large church was packed with friends and those who did not know the little dead fellow, but who had heard the noble story of his achievement which brought him glory, but only at the expense of his life. Sabot was but 17 years old. He was a trap boy and knew the mine like a book. He was out at the mouth of one of the leadings when the explosion came. He found himself unscathed and immediately rushed to the rescue of the falling men beyond him. He had dragged three into a working that the afterdamp had not reached, and to his help they owe their lives. Back he plunged into the mine heading over more bodies. Faintness came over him and he toppled over and died. When found his hands were still clutching the clothing of one man in a manner which showed conclusively the boy was in the act of dragging him out to safety when overcome. Mike's coffin was draped in pink, a profusion of handsome flowers were strewn on top. As the cortege moved away from the church there was not a dry eye in the crowd which stood about.

HISTORIC TOWER

In the Cathedral of St. Mark
Has Collapsed.

Venice, July 14.—The bell tower of the historic St. Mark's Cathedral, 230 feet high, suddenly collapsed at ten-thirty this morning, and fell into the Plaza. It is believed there was no loss of life. The accident, Italians think, is almost the greatest art loss the kingdom has ever suffered. The tower, which was built in the tenth century, showed sudden signs of decay last week.

FALL OF THE BASTILE

Is Being Celebrated With Great Pomp
Today by the French.

The Principal Cities in France are Gaily Decorated and the Occasion is Made a Fete Day.

Paris, July 14.—Today, the one hundred and thirtieth anniversary of the fall of the Bastille was celebrated as usual as a national holiday. There were numerous public entertainments and in many instances the proceeds will be donated to the Martinique relief fund. There was a military review at Longchamps, which was witnessed by a large number of people. There were also reviews at the military and naval stations, followed by illuminations, fireworks and balls in the evening.

The Parisians participated with their customary zest. Wreaths were placed on the Strasbourg monument in the Place de la Concorde. President Loubet, while driving to the Longchamps race course to witness the grand annual review, was cheered all along the route. In the presidential tribune with him were the members of the cabinet and the ambassadors.

In accordance with the custom free performances were given in the subsidized theatres. As the evening wore on the city presented an animated and brilliant spectacle, open air dancing, pyrotechnic displays, and a general illumination being the principal features. At a late hour all the squares and open spaces were crowded with dancers and merry-makers, who gave no indication of an intention to give up their sport until dawn.

French National Holiday.
Washington, D. C., July 14.—The tricolor waved over the French embassy today, commemorating the French national holiday, the fall of the Bastille, on July 14, 1789. The attaches and other officials appropriately and quietly observed the day, the usual business of the embassy giving way to holiday recreations.

ARMY OF GOLFERS

Is Gathering in Chicago for Championship Competition.

Chicago, July 14.—A small army of golfers from many parts of the country thronged the Glenview club links today. It was the advance guard of the amateur championship competitors, who will begin tomorrow their first round for the highest golf honors in the United States.

That this year's affair will outshine any of its predecessors seems to be a foregone conclusion. Of course, there is the present champion, William J. Travis, and among the other Eastern cranks who are on hand to compete for the $1000 trophy and medals are Findley S. Douglas, Allan Kennedy, the New Jersey state champion; J. G. Thorp, the Massachusetts state champion and others of equal prominence. To try conclusions with the Easterners there will be any number of the best golfers the West has produced including representatives not only of the clubs in Chicago and vicinity, but from as far distant as Southern California.

The contest will begin at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow morning. The full eighteen-hole course will be used, and it is in very good condition.

Over Financial Questions.

THE NEW PREMIER

Delivered An Address to the Conservatives Today.

London, July 14.—The Conservatives met at the foreign office today. Balfour, the newly appointed premier, on entering with Austen Chamberlain, was loudly cheered. The premier made a short speech in which he said: "We have lost the services of a chief who has been active in political life for fifty years. The loss is irreparable. I do not flatter myself that I will fill the gap, but the place must be filled. Because the king desires me to do my best, I have asked you to come here today." Balfour then stated how fully he depended on the cordial support of his followers. He was unable to rely, he continued, on the assistance of all his colleagues, especially Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, but the latter had his best wishes. The announcement of Hicks-Beach's resignation caused a sensation. When Premier Balfour had concluded his remarks all present at the meeting excitedly discussed the resignation.

Headquarters will be established in the Grand Atlantic Hotel, and visitors will have to lose no time in finding out what over they want to know. The parade, which is set for Thursday, will be one of the bright features of the meet. Handsome prizes will be offered to the club having the largest number of men in line, for the second largest number, and for the club making the best appearance.

NEW

Premier for Great Britain.

Salisbury Out

And Balfour Appointed in His Place.

The Change Creates no Surprise as it was Expected.

The Reason Assigned by Salisbury for His Withdrawal From Public Life is a Failure of Health.

London, July 14.—The Marquis of Salisbury has resigned the premiership of Great Britain, and Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour, the first lord of the treasury and government leader in the house of commons, has been appointed to succeed him. The marquis tendered his resignation at an audience which he had with King Edward last Friday. Mr. Balfour visited the king and accepted the premiership.

While it was expected in official and political circles that Lord Salisbury's resignation would be coincident with the coronation of King Edward, it was scarcely looked for prior to that event. Consequently about the only surprise expressed as the news spread throughout London concerned the date rather than the fact of the resignation. The real interest was not so much in reference to Lord Salisbury's withdrawal as it was in the appointment of his successor.

The liveliest speculation is rife as to the personnel of the new cabinet. The most discussed feature of the pending changes is the position of Mr. Chamberlain (the colonial secretary), who, in many quarters, has been regarded as the most promising candidate for the premiership.

As to Lord Salisbury's withdrawal, the main reason is considered by practically all the best informed persons to have been simply a desire for a quiet life on the part of a man advanced in years whose activities have been unusual and whose scientific tastes predisposed him to study and seclusion. That the retiring premier's health has failed to some extent is undeniable, but this is not more than, perhaps, is to be expected in a man of his years and the close of the war in South Africa and the return of the commanding general is considered to be an appropriate time for his withdrawal.

No Change Anticipated.

Washington, July 14.—The appointment of Mr. Balfour to the English premiership will not result in any change in the existing relations between Great Britain and the United States. This is the opinion of state department officials, who express the opinion that Mr. Balfour will be as much disposed, as was his predecessor, Lord Salisbury, to continue the friendly relations between the two countries.

MANY HORSES

Are Collected at Delaware for Summer Meeting.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—Three hundred and twenty-one horses, including such cranks as The Abbot, The Monk and Junior, are entered for the various trotting and pacing stakes and purses that will be given by the Detroit Driving Club at the Blue Ribbon Trotting meeting which opened at the Grosse Pointe track today. The meeting, which opens the Grand Circuit trotting events, promises to be one of the most successful ever given by the club. The entire average is over fifty to each class. The chief event of the four days' meeting is the historic Merchants and Manufacturers' ten-thousand-dollar stake for 2:21 class trotters.

Application For Extradition.

Washington, July 14.—Steps have been taken by the state department for the extradition to the United States of Colonel John F. Gaynor and Captain Benjamin D. Greene, now under arrest at Quebec. A formal application for their extradition has been made by Secretary Hay to Mr. Raikes, charge d'affaires of the British embassy, who is now at Newport, and who, it is expected, will cable the request promptly to his government. The grounds on which extradition is asked are comprehensive in character,

BLOOD

Flowed Freely in a Street Fight.

Brutal Assault

Made Upon George Fisk Yesterday.

Richard Beddo, His Alleged Assailant, Captured by the Police.

Fred Dickson, a Young Colored Man, is Charged with Having Enticed a Thirteen-Year-Old Girl from Rome.

Between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock Sunday evening a disgraceful and bloody fight occurred on Main street at the intersection of Spring street. George Fisk, a well known and peaceably inclined citizen, was assaulted and brutally beaten without the slightest provocation and Richard Beddo, a man who has been known in police circles for some time as a "bad" man, is alleged to have been the assailant.

Beddo and some companions had been in Glancy's saloon in the Key block during the afternoon and though the women declines to prosecute him he is alleged to have assaulted the proprietress of the place. Mrs. Mary Malt, aged about fifty years, after that protracted episode he went out onto Main street and without warning assaulted George Fisk and after knocking him down, kicked him viciously. Fisk was badly bruised and the considerable blood on the scene of the disgraceful affair. Beddo's name was arrested at the P. M. D. A. court by officers Ferguson, Forsythe and Neubrecht. He was not yet been arraigned.

A Serious Charge. The thirteen-year-old girl, who was arrested by officer Lattin Saturday night on complaint of Melvin Galloway, also colored, who charged that Dickson enticed his thirteen-year-old daughter from her home and kept her over night with him in a barn near the old Fairport park. The girl was taken into custody and on an interview with the mayor and chief clerk this morning, she made a serious charge against Dickson. The case will be arraigned this evening.

Swimming on Sunday. Mrs. Anna Hillard appeared in court this morning and pleaded inability to pay the fine of $5.00 for the charge of swimming on Sunday. She was released on her own recognizance. William Hillard, son of the defendant, was also present and pleaded inability to pay the fine of $5.00 for the charge of swimming on Sunday. He was also released on his own recognizance. A crowd of six persons including the two defendants and young Hillard were in swimming west of town Sunday and young Hillard claims that Harrison and Moore choked him under water and otherwise abused and injured him. Warrants have been issued in the case.

THUGS

Assaulted a Young Farmer

Robbing Him

Of Eight or Nine Dollars in Cash.

Victim Appeared at Police Station With a Bruised Head.

Claimed that He Had Been Halted and Assaulted by Two Men on Central Avenue Near the Model Mills.

Shortly before midnight Saturday night Roy Lippencott, a young man who lives several miles east of the city, was beaten and robbed by two highwaymen whom he encountered on south Central avenue near the Model Mills. The robbery was reported at police headquarters by young Lippencott in person. He appeared at the police station about 12 o'clock and his appearance indicated that he had been roughly handled. He stated that two men met him in a dark place on the street and one of them asked him what time it was. He informed them that he did not watch, whereupon one of them lifted a hatch and asked him if he knew them. He replied that he did not and at that they grabbed him and dragged him toward the mills and after striking him over the head with a weapon of some kind they searched his pockets and relieved him of between eight and nine dollars in cash.

Young Lippencott gave the police a meagre description of his two assailants and Captain Geobel notified all of the night police to be on the lookout for the strangers but they had evidently already escaped by getting out of town.

GOOD

Work was Done by the Police.

Many Suspects

Were Arrested as Soon as They Arrived

And it is Believed That Much Crooked Work was Prevented.

Highway Robbery Story Told by Confetti Salesman Not Believed by Police—The Prisoners Released.

The members of the police department have every reason to feel proud of the record they made during the lively week of the Elk's carnival. Notwithstanding the fact that the city was constantly crowded with strangers and there was every opportunity for crooks and crafters of every description to get into the city and attempt to operate in the big crowds that were to be found on the carnival grounds each evening there were very few robberies reported. Considering the number of suspicious characters that were corralled however, there was certainly a large number of robberies and crooked deals prevented by the vigilance of the officers. Both regular and special officers worked diligently from 12 to 18 hours each day and most of the inexperienced men displayed both good judgment and talent in their work. The Elks also made very good selections from their ranks in the appointment of special officers and ticket takers and everything in connection with the carnival was well managed.

William Clements, the Dayton man who was given employment by Walter Scott and C. H. Chappell on the carnival ground and who was arrested for failure to turn in the money he collected for his employers was released Saturday night after some of his friends, connected with one of the Elks, had paid the amount he was alleged to have embezzled. His story about having been robbed is considered a pure fabrication.

During the week about fifty strangers were picked up on suspicion and after a night in jail each was released with instructions to get out of the city immediately. A number of strangers also attempted to ply their wares on the streets but one by one they were discovered and sent on their ways.

Captain Phil Geobel, who was doing detective duty all week, has in his possession two racket books that were found on the carnival grounds. One, a purse, containing a trunk or valise key and the other is empty. The owners may recover their property by calling on Capt. Geobel. The latter is at his desk again and sergeant Baesinger is again on his regular trick as night roundsman.

SERIOUS

Injuries Are Feared to Have Been Sustained

By Mrs. Fred Weisenmeyer, Thrown by a Wire That Was Stretched in an Alley

Mrs. Fred Weisenmeyer, of Shawnee township, was seriously injured this morning by sustaining a violent fall. She had come to the city to visit her daughter, Mrs. George Bowser, of 291 south Pierce street, and in walking through an alley near her daughter's home, was tripped by a wire which some boys had playfully stretched across the alley. She was rendered unconscious by the fall and was removed to her daughter's home in Bennett's ambulance. The extent of her injuries may not be known for several days. Owing to her advanced age the shock she sustained may prove serious.

WEEK

Starts off With an Action for Divorce

In Which a Wife Complains of Cruelty and Neglect.

Several Jurymen Put in Appearance Only to Learn that all of the Cases Had Been Carried Over.

The first day of the week ushered in a divorce suit. Welty & Downing, representing Amanda Johnson, prepared a petition in which they set out not a few charges against Charles Johnson, who the wife claims has violated his marital contract. They were married on the 8th of November, 1890 at Boho, Ind., but have no children. The first charge is gross neglect of duty, the wife claiming that she had to work for her own living by taking in washing while the defendant spent his money on himself.

To sustain the allegation of cruelty she says he cursed and abused her. The 3rd of July, 1899 being a particular date upon which he mistreated her. Habitual drunkenness winds up the list of allegations presented by Mrs. Johnson who wants a divorce and the restoration of her maiden name, which Amanda Deboit.

Notices were sent to the jurymen who were to appear this morning, that their services would not be needed, but several failed to receive word and reported for duty.

Out of respect to County Clerk, M. J. Sullivan the office was closed today until after the funeral services attending the burial of his mother.

Judge Cunningham is counting the days now that a 1st intervene before he takes his annual trip to Canada where he has gone for several successive summers.

The annual report to the secretary of state has been sent from most of the county officers and that of the clerk will be forwarded in a day or two.

THE IDLER.

Miss Spray at the Swim.

Miss Spray, one of the high-diving team who appeared at the Elks' carnival last week, visited Johnson's swim on several occasions while here and entertained a number of spectators with some very fine exhibitions at high and fancy diving. She is a very clever swimmer and Johnson's forty-foot derrick for high diving was a source of genuine pleasure for her.

It Wasn't Charley Watson.

One evening last week an unknown man created a slight disturbance at the Wild Rose tent at the Elks' carnival and threatened to assault D. M. Anderson, who ejected him from the place. The report was circulated from some source that the disturber was Charley Watson, of the fire department, but an investigation made by chief Coates proved that the report was unfounded. Mr. Watson was not on the carnival grounds that evening. Furthermore Charley is not the kind of a citizen to indulge in such behavior.

AUTHORIZED BY THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

At the Democratic county convention held on the 8th of April last, the following resolutions were adopted:

The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

The committee on resolutions submitted the following report:

Resolved, That the Democratic National platform as adopted at Kansas City in 1900 be endorsed by this convention.

Resolved, That the delegates sent to the state convention from this county be instructed to favor the adoption of the above resolution in the state convention.

Resolved, That the rule heretofore adopted by the Democratic convention that candidates for nomination for district office shall submit their names to the central committee and be voted for and the one receiving the plurality vote of the county be declared the choice of the Democratic electors of said county for district office, be and the same is hereby adopted.

Resolved, That Chas. H. Adkins be declared the choice of Allen county for congressional nomination and that the delegates to the congressional convention be instructed to vote for him for congressional nomination so long as he is a candidate before said congressional convention.

Resolved, That the chairman of this convention designate three members of the Democratic county central committee who are hereby authorized and empowered to fill any vacancies that may occur by death or resignation in Democratic county ticket as nominated this date, April 8th, 1902.

Resolved, That the congressional candidate selected at our primaries be authorized to select the delegates to the congressional convention.

The fifth section, it will be seen provided for the appointment by the chairman of the convention of a committee of three, selected from the county central committee whose duty it would be to fill any vacancies which might occur on the Democratic county ticket. The chairman appointed Charles Posthaug, of Marion township; John O'Neill, of Lima, and Frank B. Cotner, of Jackson township, as members of that committee.

These gentlemen, acting under the authority conferred upon them by the county convention, after the resignation of M. J. Sullivan had been accepted by the central committee, selected O. A. Graham, of Jackson township, to fill the vacancy created by M. J. Sullivan's resignation. The action of this sub-committee was ratified by the central committee to whom the report was made.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY BOSS IS NEITHER ROOSEVELT NOR HANNA.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says: The real boss of the Republican party has been discovered. He is not President Roosevelt—nor by any means, for the President has not been able to put through so reasonable a scheme as a trifling reciprocity treaty with Cuba. It is not even Senator Hanna. The leader who controls the majority in both the senate and the house is a greater personage than these. He is Mr. Henry Oxnard, the principal and certainly the largest beneficiary of the sugar beet industry. Mr. Oxnard has openly defied the President, and has manipulated congress to suit himself. He is charged with opening up his official quarters in the house committee rooms until he had got things in order there, and then he took possession of apartments on the second senatorial side. He fought out his winning campaign from these luxurious quarters on which the ordinary taxpayer is scarcely permitted to look.

The President has gone more freely into attempts to influence legislation than any of his immediate predecessors, beyond a doubt. Every piece of the powerful machinery in connection with the White House has been brought into action, but has been without effect against the opposition of the beet sugar millionaire. The prestige of the appointing power has failed to impress the national legislators; for once it has not kept congressmen and senators in line. Whatever the advocate of beet sugar has asked has been granted in the face of the most determined presidential opposition. Let Hanna, Quay, Aldrich and the old-time bosses make way for the new political star.

WHOLESALE ANARCHY.

Doctrine of Might Makes Right Supported by Republican Leaders.

A prominent Nebraska Republican in a speech before the state university explaining and condemning anarchy quoted from several noted anarchists to show that they advocate the doctrine that might is the foundation of right, but he unconsciously put the anarchists and the Republican leaders in the same class. He quoted "Caspar Schmidt, commonly known as Max Schermer," as saying:

Right is power or might. What you have the power to be, that you have a right to be. I derive all right and justification from myself alone, for I am entitled to do everything which I have the power to do.

Now, Republicans and Democrats alike condemn this doctrine when an individual applies it, but the Republican leaders are applying on a large scale in the Philippines exactly the same doctrine that the anarchist applies on a small scale. Imperialism rests on the doctrine of force and on that alone. We are in the Philippines because we have the power to be. The Commissioner has already shown by the correspondence which passed between the president and the peace commissioners that Mr. McKinley insisted upon resting title in part upon "conquest"—that was the word used—and conquest gives us the only title we have. Spain was not in possession when we went through the form of buying the islands and the people and was not in position to put us in possession. We purchased an option on a fight and have been fighting ever since. How can Republicans consistently condemn an anarchist who asserts his right to kill because he has the power to kill if these same Republicans assert that we have a right to govern Filipinos because we have the power to do so and as a corollary have the right to kill Filipinos if they object to conquest and subjugation? If our nation acts upon the theory that might makes right, it will find it difficult to draw a line between wholesale conquest and retail anarchy.

To fight anarchy successfully we must set up a standard of right entirely independent of the force which supports or defends it; we must insist that there are inalienable rights and that governments are instituted among men for the preservation of these rights. Governments are necessary, but necessary for what? For the protection of rights, and they are good just in proportion as they protect the rights of citizens. The Republicans have refused to discuss the principle involved in imperialism, but they cannot always refuse. When they begin the discussion, they will find themselves defending European principles of government, and they will discover upon examination that the empires of Europe are responsible for the doctrine of force asserted by individual anarchists. Is it not time to recognize that a moral principle cannot be affected by the number of persons involved? That might makes right is no more true when the might is employed by 75,000,000 than when it is employed by one, and yet that is the only difference between the doctrine of the imperialist and the doctrine of the anarchist—Commoner.

Millions Owned by Americans.

According to an estimate recently published in the New York Herald, there are $328 millions in the United States, owning real and personal property to the aggregate value of not less than $16,000,000,000.

If this colossal sum of money could be parcelled out among the people of this country, every man, woman and child would receive $210, or if divided out among the people of this state the per capita would be $8,000. The Vanderbilt family alone is credited with possessions amounting to $300,000,000. John D. Rockefeller is probably the richest individual property owner in the United States.

All of the real and personal property in this country is valued at $81,000,000,000, and one-fifth of this amount is owned by individuals worth more than a million each.—Atlanta Constitution.

A PAYING INVESTMENT

Wire Rope Trust Gave the Republicans $100,000 in 1896.

THE PEOPLE HAVE PAID IT BACK

The Duties Were Fixed in 1897 and the Trust Now Holds in Prosperity. America Pays Nearly Three Times Prices Charged Foreigners—Manufacturers Bullied.

The almost criminal folly of the protective tariffs of today, and especially of the inexcusable tariff on iron and steel goods, is well illustrated by the wire rope trust.

The manufacturers of wire rope have for years had a "gentlemen's agreement" on prices, an agreement similar to that of the manufacturers of steel rails or of structural steel or of sheets or of most of the other products of the steel mills. The principal parties to this agreement, pool or trust are John A. Roebling & Sons company, Trenton, N. J.; Hazard Manufacturing company, Wilkesbarre, Pa.; Washburn & Moen Manufacturing company, St. Louis, Mo.; Roderick & Bascom Rope company, St. Louis, and the Williamsport Wire company, Williamsport, Pa.

Realizing that the prices which can be got for wire rope depend largely upon the duty on wire rope, the members of this trust began in 1896 to sow seed for the big harvest of profits which they have been reaping since 1897. According to the statements of some of the members, they contributed $100,000 to the Republican campaign fund in 1896. At least if all contributed their pro rata shares, as did some of the members, the Republican administration of 1897 was indebted to this trust in the sum of $100,000.

As the better grades of wire rope have always been and still are made largely from imported rods or wire (larger than No. 6) the trust wanted no increase on the duty on wire rods. None was made in the Dingley bill. The duty on wire rope, however, was increased by the amount of the increased duty on coated or galvanized wire. The trust was also permitted to continue to benefit by the unremissible tariff which compelled importers of wire rope to pay the same rate of duty per pound on the central core of the rope as upon the wire of which the rope is composed. This central core usually consists of twisted pile or hemp and is used only as a "former" around which to twist the strands. It has little or no value, but adds 5 to 10 per cent to the weight on which duty is assessed.

Having fixed on the Dingley bill to suit their tastes, they proceeded to reap their profits by putting prices at home up to the tariff limit, while lowering prices to foreigners so that our rope is exported to every important foreign country with the possible exception of England. As the duty on imported wire rope will average nearly 100 per cent, the trust charges domestic consumers more than twice what is charged foreigners for its goods.

In the following table are compared net cash prices in America and England. The American prices are obtained by deducting 40 per cent from the price list of John A. Roebling & Sons company for galvanized transmission or haulage rope composed of six strands and a hemp center, seven wires to the strand. The ordinary discount to agents for this class of rope is only 40 and 12 1/2 per cent. But as some agents get special discounts on some kinds of goods, which amount to 30 per cent, I have taken this lowest possible price. The English prices are those quoted in a letter written April 10, 1902, by a leading English manufacturer to a New York dealer. They are for galvanized BB wire rope, six strands, each seven wires, and are f. o. b. Liverpool.

Approximate circumference.	England.	America.	American times English price.
4 1/2	7.44	18.50	2 1/2
4 3/4	6.31	16.54	2 1/2
5 1/2	5.35	12.75	2 1/2
5 3/4	4.72	10.12	2 1/2
6 1/2	3.53	7.30	2
6 3/4	2.96	6.16	2
7 1/2	2.18	4.40	2
7 3/4	1.95	3.72	1 3/4
8 1/2	1.33	2.88	2 1/4
8 3/4	1.23	2.42	2
9 1/2	.85	1.65	2 1/4

Here we see that the prices of ordinary galvanized steel wire rope are from 1 3/4 to 2 1/2 times as high in America as in England, and yet the American and English wire ropes compete in both countries. If we deduct from the English price 25 cents per hundred pounds as the cost of getting American rope to foreign markets, we find that the actual export price of American rope must average only about one-third of the price charged our own consumers.

How much of this difference is accounted for by the tariff?

Adding the duty, at least 2 1/2 cents per pound, and the transportation cost, 25 cents per pound, we get the cost of English rope 4 1/2 inches in circumference, three pounds to a foot, as 15.30 cents per foot, while the actual price charged here by the trust is 18.50 cents. Thus our trust charges us 20 per cent more than the cost of laying down English rope in our markets even after paying an import duty of over 90 per cent on the English price. English rope 1 1/2 inches in circumference costs 2.88 cents here, while the trust price is 2.42 cents. Thus apparently our importers of English rope are making profits of 20 to 30 per cent. Why do they not cut prices and get all the business?

According to the statements of importers of wire rope, the customs officials invariably advance prices of the foreign imported goods on which advalorem duties are assessed, although the prices marked are actual purchase prices. Moreover, the United States government sent a detective to Philadelphia to learn the price paid by American importers. Although this detective had free access to the books of at least one English manufacturer and found nothing that did not verify the invoice prices, yet the customs officials here continue to advance the invoice prices on goods imported by Americans.

In some cases the importers say that they make their prices out higher than the actual prices paid so that they will not be penalized, as they would be should the customs officials add more than 10 per cent to their invoice prices. Probably one-fourth of the importers' apparent profits are wiped out by the overzealousness of the customs department in serving the wire rope trust.

In the next place, it is not easy for importers to find customers. Wire rope is usually one of the materials or products, and a minor one, required in some construction job of work. It is important that the contractors obtain when desired all of the other and more important products. These they can be certain of obtaining only of very large dealers in all kinds of iron and steel goods and at present practically only of the steel trust. The export to which the steel trust is now putting on the screws on the manufacturers, merchants and contractors who consume steel goods is not realized by the general public. If a manufacturer is dependent upon the steel trust for any one important material, he cannot obtain it unless he buys all his materials from the trust, at least all the trust can supply. Not only this, but in many instances the trust will prescribe the maximum prices at which and the territory in which this dependent manufacturer can sell his finished product and the railroads over which his material must be shipped; also, if he does not pay cash, the trust will inform him through what banks he must finance his accounts and give him other similar details of procedure to retard him of the new order of things and of his loss of independence.

Similar treatment is accorded to merchants and contractors. Practically, if not actually, the steel trust says to consumers, "Buy of us and only of us if you wish to continue to do business in this country." As the trust is practically the only producer of many important products, like wire, the plate, etc., nearly all manufacturers, dealers and contractors need the mercy of the trust. Even if a contractor could get all of his materials for any one job outside of the trust he does not dare to offend it, for he has other contracts which require steel trust products. The result is that he reluctantly submits to the trust's dictation. As a matter of fact many manufacturers, dealers and big contractors now look only to the trust for materials and have ceased to obtain quotations from outsiders and foreigners. Thousands of such manufacturers and dealers are cursing the trust in an undertone while openly submitting to its terms and exactions.

It is this state of affairs, due to the bullying tactics of the steel trust in the business world, that makes it possible for wire rope to sell in this country for two or three times the price in England and for nearly twice the cost duty paid of English wire rope in this country. The wire rope pool, it should be remembered, is now a part of the great steel trust and gets the benefit of the power of the trust to dictate terms and hold up most of the steel consuming industries. If all other steel goods were on the free list, the duty on wire rope would undoubtedly limit the power of the wire rope combine to extort from the consumer. But, all steel goods being protected by high tariff duties, the wire rope trust can exact from its victims much more than the amount of the duty on wire rope, which illustrates the benefits of high tariffs on goods which we are exporting to all parts of the world.

BYRON W. HOLT.

The Mother of Trusts.

Class in Wool. Stand Up!

The present tariff has been protecting us for nearly six years, and trusts have grown fat and saucy, but the woolgrower, with the highest tariff ever exacted, is not getting as much for his wool as under the lower tariff the recently Democrats enacted. Why this is so is respectfully referred to the Woolgrowers' Protective association. The balance of us who have to buy the "cheap wool" clothing and find it is made of cotton and shoddy would like to see the all wool and a yard wide cloth that would wear a month without getting threadbare.

Just a Coincidence.

Senator Hanna squirms considerably over the charge that he favors the Panama route for the canal in the interest of the transcontinental railroads and threatens libel suits to those newspapers who lambast him. It is rather singular that all the United States senators who are "friendly" to the railroads are opposing the Mr. Hanna route or have been persuaded that the Panama route is the best.

WOMEN'S WORLD

UTAH'S SILVER QUEEN

Mrs. Edwin Francis Holmes, who is worth fifty millions.

Mrs. Edwin Francis Holmes, Utah's "silver queen," whose wealth is computed at $50,000,000, is the partner of United States Senator Kearns of Utah in the Silver King mine, said to be the richest silver lead mine in the world. She owns equal shares with the senator and operates the mine with him.

Mrs. Holmes, whose achievements in business have equaled those of many of the most successful men, is still young.

MRS. EDWIN FRANCIS HOLMES

young with a fresh complexion and the slight figure of a girl. Her father was M. B. Bransford of Lexington, Ky., a state renowned for the beauty of her daughters. She was educated at San Francisco, and while still young she married Mr. A. B. Emery, noted not only as a mining man, but also as speaker of the house in the legislature of Utah and grand master of the Masons in that state.

Seven years ago she was left a widow, and two years later she married Colonel E. F. Holmes of Chicago, a retired lumberman.

It was during the period of her widowhood that Mrs. Holmes developed the remarkable business qualifications that have made her wealthy. She assumed control of her large interests and managed them with marked ability.

In Utah women are independent of their husbands in business relations, and Mrs. Holmes, though married, still directs and supervises her own concerns, but she defers greatly to the advice of Colonel Holmes, to whom she is deeply devoted.—New York World.

Have Women a Sense of Humor?

Now, unheeded, in humor there is still just a shade of of emptiness, heartlessness and pain, a sort of faint of "original sin" that civilization, kindness of heart and Christian culture are year by year refining out of it. The woman's appreciation of humor is far more refined than is the same sense in her man's. The woman's sense of humor is far more refined than is the same sense in her man's. The woman's sense of humor is far more refined than is the same sense in her man's.

Ethics of Household Service.

Relation between mistress and servant is discussed in a sensible way by the Boston Advertiser. It is to the fear that as the servant's home is in the house where she works the relation between her and the mistress is more close than that between clerks and their employers or workers of any other sort. For this reason there must be more consideration than when the situation can be called a purely business arrangement.

Household service is a business arrangement, and again it is not, and those householders who recognize the twofold character of the situation are the best calculated to succeed in solving the domestic problem. In the business character of the situation you must demand prompt efficient labor, honesty and cleanliness, but, on the other hand, you must remember that a member of your family and you will not secure good results if you forget her womanhood.

There is a vast difference in people's ideas of a kind. But a kindly manner orders even a request, a little attention to the modish condition of the worker and a little friendly advice on matters of dress or similar things that concern her as a woman, supplementing a clean and comfortable room is certainly a good type of kindness.

An Invalid's Bed.

All girls should know a little about nursing, so as to be of use in time of sickness. One of the most important things to see to is the bed. Very few people really know how to make a bed properly—that is, to put the sheets on evenly and smoothly. The sheets should be large enough to be securely tucked under the edges of the mattress, and the greatest care should be taken to smooth out all the creases, as nothing fidgets a person so much as crumpled sheets or sheets that keep slipping to one side. Then the pillow. The proper way to arrange them is so that they are neither too high nor too low, just of a medium height to rest the back of the patient when sitting up. Changing and sinking up the pillows when they have become rumpled takes but little time, but is very comforting and refreshing to the patient. The covering for the bed should vary according to the temperature of the room, the nature of the sickness, the feelings of patient and the time of year. Whatever these conditions, the coverings should be as light as is consistent with the comfort of the patient. Feather beds should never be used in cases of sickness. They are uncomfortable for the patient and keep the body unnecessarily warm.

Foot Cushions.

"I don't mind standing," said an experienced housekeeper. "I always have a cushion for my feet when I stand at the ironing board. It is made of a dozen thicknesses of old carpet lining covered with druggist. The lining is cut in squares and very loosely tacked together with long stitches. The druggist is cut of the required size. The edges are turned in and overhanded, then strong stitches are sewed through about every two inches over the surface of the cover. I have a little loop on two corners of the rug and hang it up by both loops. In this way it does not curl up and get out of shape, as it would if it were hung by one corner. I have another rug in front of my dishwashing table—indeed, there are a number of them around the house—and when I have any work that requires standing one of them invariably comes on to the door under my feet. If housekeepers realized how much of their strength could be saved by a few of these simple devices, they would not fail to provide them."

Preserving Children.

The following amusing "recipe for preserving children," written by Miss Mignon Lincoln, aged sixteen, of New Orleans and which won the prize for the best answer sent to St. Nicholas Magazine will be relished by all women, whether mother or not:

Take one large, grassy field, one-half dozen children, all sizes, three small dogs, one long, narrow strip of brook, pebbly if possible. Mix the children with the dogs, empty them into the field, stirring continually; sprinkle with field flowers. Pour brook gently over the pebbles. Cover all with a deep blue sky. Bake in a very hot sun. When the children are well browned, they may be removed; will be found tight and ready for setting away to cool in the bathtub.

Washing Cretonne.

The washing of cretonne is really simple. Shake it free of dust and then immerse it in a lather made with warm water and soap jelly. Wash thoroughly and then rinse well in cold water in which vinegar has been mixed in the proportion of a wineglass to three quarts of water. Next dip each article separately in gum water, wring and fold it in a cloth. It is best to iron the cretonne immediately. The gum water must of course be prepared beforehand. It is made by dissolving half an ounce of gum arabic to every quart of water used.

Washing Silk Ribbons.

Silk ribbons of any color can be safely washed in cold suds made with the best soap. After the suds is removed, rinse in clear cold water, but never wring. The best way to dry them is to lay them while wet upon a marble surface or on a pane of glass, and with a stiff finger nail brush rub them sideways until every crease and wrinkle and air bubble is removed. Then leave until dry.

Toilet Vinegar.

Toilet vinegar is quite cheap if made at home. Take one pint of the best white vinegar and add two drams of each of the following: Rosemary, rue, lavender and camphor. Let the herbs soak in the vinegar for twenty-four hours, then strain. A little of this added to the bath is deliciously reviving.

The Wringer.

In using the wringer it saves both the wash and the washerwoman to fold the clothes to an even thickness and exactly the breadth of the wringer rolls. Sending things through in lumps and bunches strains the springs and brings them quickly to the breaking point.

Things to Avoid.

That house is no true home where the steam and fumes of the kitchen penetrate to the living rooms or where the mistress sits down to her family table with her face clouded under the petty trials and vexations of her household.

The woman who cries when she is alone has a sorrow that is cutting into her heart, and the tears that come in solitude simply save the heart from a never healing wound.

If new linen be rubbed over with fine white soap, it may be embroidered more easily. This prevents the threads from cracking.

Horn and whalebone can both be easily bored or bent if first soaked in absolutely boiling water.

Prepared chalk is an excellent cleanser for jewelry.

ROMANCE OF A VIOLIN.

Famous Stradivarius, Stolen Years Ago, Recovered by Mrs. Holt.

After eight years of legal controversy, weary and trouble, during which her husband died, it is claimed, from grief, Mrs. Matilda Holt of New York, while bald and wrinkled, was made happy the other day when Recorder O'Neil turned over to her the famous Stradivarius which was stolen from her husband many years ago, says the New York Journal.

The violin was owned by Joseph Jean Holt, who eight years ago lived in New York. At that time negotiations were pending between the Holts and Signor Nicolini, husband of Holt's sister, for the purchase of the violin, and Nicolini's offer of $3,500 had been accepted. Then during the absence of the Holts from home one afternoon the "Strad" was stolen, though jewelry and other valuables in the house were untouched.

A year after the violin disappeared Victor S. Flechter, a dealer in musical instruments in Union square, New York, was arrested, indicted and on April 29, 1894, was found guilty of the theft of the violin and sent to Sing Sing. A new trial for Flechter was asked on the ground of newly discovered evidence and granted.

The matter dragged along for several months, and then the violin was found in a store kept by a Mrs. Springer at 53 Jay street, Brooklyn. She said she bought it from Jim Dooly for her son and paid $30 for it. Dooly said he had bought it in Fox's pawnshop on Eighth avenue, near Fourteenth street. Experts declare the violin to be the original Strad stolen from Holt. On this evidence a new trial was granted Flechter, and a recommendation was recently made by the district attorney that the indictment against Flechter be dismissed. On this the recorder reserved decision.

Both Flechter and Mrs. Springer said in court they had no claim to the violin, and it was given to Mrs. Holt.

PROGRESS IN AGRICULTURE.

Secretary Wilson Plans For Producing Foreign Products.

Secretary Wilson in a signed article written for the Washington Evening Times explains what the agricultural department is doing to aid American progress in agriculture and for the general development of the country. In proof of the work being done the secretary cites the following facts:

Four or five years ago we raised 25 per cent of the rice we used. The Dingley law imposed a heavy tariff, and our rice was not suited to our requirements. It was soft. We sent a southern man to China to hunt for what we wanted. He found a sturdy, clump rice, and this year we shall supply the home demand. We shall have our own rice this year, and those gentlemen who sent rice to the Danish West Indies in hope that the United States would buy the islands will find that we have enough without their stock.

We have been paying $8,000,000 a year for macaroni from Italy, and it was not of a very tempting quality at that. We will raise 2,000,000 bushels of macaroni wheat this year. We expect to develop this crop until we add $20,000,000 value annually to our wheat crop. Macaroni wheat will grow in ten inches of rainfall. It is particularly suited to the western states as far west as the one hundredth meridian.

We have just received a consignment of hard wheats from the valley of the Tigris river. We have found an early date palm from the same valley which we have planted in Phoenix, Ariz. by the side of a date palm lately brought from North Africa.

We are also improving the maize crop. There is a great demand for houting corn as well as for varieties rich in oil. Over $18,000 worth of corn oil has been sold this year. It promises to become a great industry. We also have several new varieties of sugar corn for canning purposes.

BEATS THE CIRCUS.

Brewery Horses, Routed by Fire, Go Over Their Routes.

Fire started in the Weissbrod & Hess brewery stables in Philadelphia the other day, and to save 100 horses they were turned loose into the street, says the New York World. The horses cantered about in wonderment, then each animal found his teammate, and off they started to do business. As calmly as though attached to brewery wagons the teams trotted off upon their various routes.

At a tavern two miles from the stable one team came to a stop at a watering trough where they daily stopped. After waiting the usual length of time they started to resume their route. Another team was last seen trotting contentedly side by side out the Bethlehem pike bound for a farm where they were at pasture a few days ago.

Most of the horses were not recovered until they returned to the brewery after going entirely over their routes.

A Few Occupations.

A society for the diffusion of knowledge concerning election laws has been established in London, says the New York Tribune. Miss Bertha B. Fischer has been made a fellow of it, having qualified by passing certain examinations. She is especially interested in arousing interest in diffusing information concerning political matters among women and in securing women to fill political posts now open to them.
